

BUCKINGHAM PALACE

5th August, 1987.

Jean Ann Cook.

The Queen has commanded me to thank you for all you did to make her visit to Covent Garden this afternoon so enjoyable and instructive. Her Majesty, as I think was patently obvious, enjoyed every moment of her time with you, and sends you her warm thanks and congratulations on this remarkable project.

The Queen hopes that you will be able to pass her thanks to the donors and craftsman of the lovely elm chest, which she was delighted to receive. It will be a most attractive and useful memento of a happy afternoon.

Yours sincerely
Robert Fellowes
